Seize the Moment

Seed Grants

Up to $10k for interdisciplinary ASU teams

Deadline Oct 15

Shaping tomorrow, today, requires path-breaking, creative solutions. That challenge has never been more critical than it is today, as an alarming “syndemic” of intersecting crises—the coronavirus pandemic, racial injustice and accompanying civil unrest, and cascading environmental hazards—destabilize social systems and threaten human survival across the planet. This is a pivotal time for educational institutions to re-envision their roles and priorities.

To seize the moment, we’re offering ASU faculty the opportunity to apply for seed grants of up to $10,000 for transdisciplinary arts, science, technological, and humanities collaborations that address the intersecting environmental, social, and COVID challenges of the current moment.

Seed grants are open to ASU term, tenured, or tenure-track faculty of any rank, campus, or discipline. All you need for the first round of applications is a simple pitch. Visit our website to read the full guidelines. The deadline for initial applications is October 15.
